Honda sets North American record: 20 million vehicles

■ Last month, Honda produced its 20 millionth vehicle built in North America. Honda’s North American plants are in East Liberty, Ohio; Greensburg, Ind.; Lincoln, Ala.; Marysville, Ohio; Alliston, Ontario; and El Salto Jalisco, Mexico.
■ Ford Motor Co.’s Kentucky Truck plant in Louisville returned to work last week building the Ford F-series Super Duty pickup. The factory has been down for changeover since Dec. 15, adding the Ford Expedition and Lincoln Navigator SUVs, which will start production this month.
■ North American car and truck production for January fell 62.2 percent from January 2008. (See Late News on Page 3.)
